

NEW DEVELOPMENTS AT CEPMC

The time has come for the changeover of presidency, which occurred at CEPMC's annual General Assembly on 4 June 2013. Jean-Marie Vaissaire takes over from the incumbent President, Libero Ravaioli. We would like to thank Mr. Ravaioli for all his hard work and direction over the past two years.

Mr. Vaissaire's current roles include President of the French association AIMCC, and President of Saint Gobain Glassolutions. We are sure that in the critical times ahead, Mr. Vaissaire will provide clear counsel to the association as well as bring intricate knowledge of the construction industry. The role of Vice-President will now go to Dr. Heimo Scheuch who is Vice-Chairman of Cerame-Unie and CEO of Wienerberger.

To accompany the changeover of presidency, we are pleased to announce that CEPMC changes name to Construction Products Europe as of 4 June. We recognised that it is vital to communicate our expertise and full range of capabilities. To do this, we needed to rethink our identity and vision to fully represent what we could offer the construction industry and its evolving needs.

As such, the new name creates a more accurate reflection of the association's activities and alongside the change of name we have developed a new logo and website (www.construction-products.eu). The redeveloped website and logo creates a fresh, new visual identity that allows us to confidently communicate our association in a way that is simple, clear, and authentic to our mission. We will also be more present on social media using our new identity, which will enable us to provide more relevant and timely expertise.

We are therefore extremely pleased to welcome Jean-Marie Vaissaire as the new President of Construction Products Europe.
