Christophe Clemente & Fleming Voetmann our new Vice-Presidents

Brussels, 1st June. During our 2023 General Assembly that was held in Brussels yesterday, our members unanimously nominated Christophe Clemente and Fleming Voetmann as Vice-Presidents, effective immediately. Our President, Cédric de Meeûs, congratulated them and thanked them for their support.

Christophe Clemente, CEO of Xella, stated: “I am looking forward to promoting our industry at European level, working with fellow CEOs and EU Institution officials, sharing the solutions our industry has to offer in terms of resilience and circularity. Product and technology neutrality is the basis on which Construction Products Europe engages in all debates and we must strive together to deliver housing and infrastructure to EU citizens.”

Fleming Voetmann, VELUX’s Vice-President of External Relations and Sustainability, expressed his enthusiasm to working with the Secretariat and the members adding: “We have an amazing range of expertise within the industry. We will endeavour to bring these together to positively contribute to the crucial EU debates that range from circularity to digitalisation.”
