Construction Products Europe is pleased to join the support campaign calling for a EU Fire Safety Strategy. The associated manifesto calls upon Members of the European Parliament, candidates, and crucial stakeholder organisations/companies to keep EU citizens fire safe in all buildings. It underlines the importance of fire safety and the need to develop and promote a consistent fire safety strategy in all Member States.

Christophe Sykes, Director General, stated that fire safety is a building practice that comprises fire prevention, fire detection, fire suppression, and incident management. He underlined the importance of well executed installation and maintenance, crucial elements of fire safety and prevention, as we strive to deliver much needed sustainable housing solutions and improve the well-being of all EU citizens in line with the objectives of EU Green Deal.
